

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

We like to put ourselves out there.

Effective community involvement is a key feature of many of our projects and we are convinced that this assists in the development process and helps make better places. This is recognised in the government's desire to see all new development responding to community needs and aspirations. Our aim is to ensure that engagement with those with a wider interest in each of our projects enables all stakeholders to contribute effectively and positively and to take an active role in the design and development of their local area.

We provide our clients with experienced in-house personnel and resources to undertake all aspects of community involvement. No two projects are the same and our consultation work reflects this - we are experienced at organising and facilitating public exhibitions, community workshops, stakeholder meetings, focus groups and surgeries.

Our team of talented graphic designers and CAD technicians are skilled in undertaking a full range of presentation graphics to support this activity, ranging from exhibitions and marketing material to 3D visualisations and websites.

1

2

3

- 1 Website for East Kettering Urban Extension
- 2 Exhibition for Station Hill Planning Application, Reading
- 3 Children's presentation for Halifax Eco-City Plan

- 4 Exhibition for East Newport Development Framework
- 5 Stakeholder workshop for North Wellingborough Urban Extension
- 6 Site visit for stakeholders, Priors Hall Urban Extension, Corby

4

5

6

